PARISH LIFE

Leigh Anderson Romanello's parents were charter members of the church. Leigh and husband Michael had their son Tony Romanello. Tony's family are now fourth generation Church of Saint Mary parishioners. The first charter members were mostly young adults who came from Christ the King. It was a very young and fun loving group of twenty somethings who put their hearts into making this the strong parish it is today and their legacy lives on in their children, grandchildren and even great grandchildren.

Under the direction of the Most Reverend Frederick Beckerle, the church flourished and the first order was a school. It started with three overcrowded grades. The first and second grade were split into one first grade, one second grade and one grade that was half of each grade. The second wing was soon built and expanded to the eighth grade. The Felician nuns lived in the two larger classrooms upstairs until their convent was built. Ms. Frizzell will always remain a favorite teacher for those who had her.

Father Beckerle was a force to be reckoned with! Many families in the parish had 9-12 kids, and he made sure it was affordable to send them all to the school. Fr. Beckerle worked on intimidation, and she remembers many homilies about needing money for the church. He was many things to many people, but without his drive and guidance, it would not be the strong parish it is today.

The Women's Club was extremely active. There was much work to do, so they were organized by Rosary Circles. Each circle was named after a Mystery. Leigh's mom was in the Sorrowful Mystery Circle. These ladies did everything—cook and clean for the priests, altar linens, cooking for church socials, funerals, school activities—you name it! Her mom never complained, for she was proud to serve her church community. She did this until she was moved into nursing care.
